Grub-ſtreet, March 31.

Predictions for the month of April, by WILLIAM BICKERSTAFF, Eſq;

THE great ignorance of the writers of the common Almanacks having been abundantly ſhewn, by comparing their Predictions for the months of January, February and March; I ſhall think my ſelf excuſed from any farther trouble in comparing and examining the idle ſtuff which they have publiſhed to the world. I ſhall only beg that the publick will compare the two following obſervations on this month, by two of the moſt eminent of thoſe Authors.

GADBURY.

The many favourable Aſpects this month can predict no leſs than a peaceable ſituation of affairs from abroad, Negotiation of peace ſucceed, and Europe inclines to a general Accommodation.

The Trine of both the Sun and Mercury to Jupiter, looks with a favourable aſpect on ſome Clergyman, that has (perhaps unjuſtly) been under cenſure, if not diſgrace, but Poſt nubila Phœbus.

PARTRIDGE.

This Month ſeems to begin comfortably, in ſome things, but it is feared a general diſſatisfaction ſucceeds in many parts of Europe.

Many of the eccleſiaſtical Function much tormented by ſcandalous libels, and nameleſs Authors of Pamphlets.

Can any two things be more oppoſite than theſe predictions? And yet (O my ſtars!) theſe men pretend to judge by rules of art.

But the attention of the Publick, which my own Predictions have gained, gives me encouragement to lay before the world my obſervations for the month of April. And I dare aſſure the candid Reader, that he will find every ſingle prediction fulfilled, as exactly as any of the former.

For the benefit of the unlearned reader, I ſhall add an explanation of the characters of the 7 Planets, and of the characters and ſignifications of the Aſpects.

An eminent Grubean Orator, who was born the firſt day of this month, is on this day taken very ill, grows delirious, and raves mightily. I apprehend he will die on the 29th, about 6 in the morning.

The concluſion of ſome marriage between a great Soldier and a Lady of much beauty, approaches about this time.

A great Prince, who has hitherto acted with much reſerve, begins to explain himſelf more clearly.

A certain Monarch enters into ſome crafty deſign about this time, to the great diſturbance of his neighbours.

A beautiful young Lady is married to an old dotard.

A great Monarch gets the better of his enemies, both by arms and counſels.

Some wicked, underhand deſigns on foot.

The crafty deſign hinted at above begins now to ripen.

I had almoſt forgot to mention that our ſickly Brother, the Weekly Regiſter will die this month.

WHEN theſe Predictions were read in the Society, all the Members were amazed: and grief appeared in the face of every one; when they heard of the approaching fate of their admired Orator. Some could not forbear doubting of the truth of Mr. BICKERSTAFF's prediction. Mr. BICKERSTAFF deſired that he might be excuſed from giving any anſwer to theſe doubts; and intreated the Society to ſuſpend their judgments till the end of the month. Then Dr. MOORE ſtood up, and informed the Society, that the Orator had for ſome time been greatly troubled with the Scurvy; a diſeaſe which †perverts the Lympha, and is a mortal enemy to the nervous ſyſtem; for ſcorbutick Perſons are troubled with wearineſs, ſence of weight, and a DULL obſcure pain. To cure this, he added the Orator had taken ſome Spirit of Survygraſs; and (as he feared) too large a doſe of it. But whether this would be ſufficient to cauſe his death, as Mr. BICKERSTAFF had predicted, he much doubted. He obſerved farther, that he was ſorry he was not able to prevail with the Orator to take his antiſcorbutick * Spirit, which excells any thing yet offered to the publick, with a purge given at proper times with it: It expells the numerous trains of ſcorbutick ſymptoms; and as the HYPOCHONDRIAC and the hyſteric illneſſes have their ſource from the Scurvy, it relieves them; it alters and changes all the juices in the human body, renovates the blood, reſtores decayed nature, chears the heart, revives the ſpirits, and opens obſtructions of the viſcera, gives reſt to weary tired, and worn out bodies; it invigorates and inkindles again the almoſt extinguiſhed natural innate heat, making the vital flame to burn clear, removing weakneſſes and indiſpoſitions, and reſtoring the priſtine health. This would have been much better than meddling with ſo dangerous a medicine, as that he had of late ventured to take.

THE following Letter I received ſome time ago from Burton in Staffordſhire.

YOUR old friend J— M— S — having purchaſed an eſtate in this neighbourhood, lives now amongſt us, and is ſo kind as to make very pretty copies of verſes upon perſons and ſubjects that occur hereabouts. I now ſend you ſome verſes which he repeated the other day at an entertainment made on account of the Birth-day of the young Lord ANDOVER, Son to the Earl of Berkſhire.

O ANDOVER! with ſoft attraction gay;
Where early graces and young muſes play:
Think, whilſt we celebrate thy natal hour,
We toaſt to freedom unreſtrain'd by pow'r;
That plan of liberty deliver'd down,
Which the Sire cheriſh'd, and the Son muſt own.
Then, when on noble ruins thou ſhalt riſe,
And the bad world yields Berkſhire to the skies;
Long may'ſt thou emulate thy Father's place,
And wear the beauties of thy Mother's race.

THURSDAY, March 25.

Yeſterday his Majeſty went to the Houſe of Peers, and paſſed the ſeveral bills that were ready for the Royal aſſent. C. The Land-tax bill, the bill to prevent mutiny and deſertion, and to ſeveral bills. P. The bill for naturalizing the Marchioneſs of Blandford D P.

Yeſterday morning the Rev. Dr. Terry preached before her Majeſty, his R. Highneſs the Duke, and the 3 eldeſt Princeſſes in the Chappel Royal at S. James's. C. ——

We hear that the Rev. Mr. Brady, A. M. is appointed Chaplain to the R. H. L. Harrington, one of his Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State. Ibid.

The ſame day the R. H. the L. Mayor, ac[illegible] ſeveral of the Aldermen, &c. went up to K[illegible] barge, to inſpect into any encroachments t[illegible] made in the river of Thames, according to annual cuſtom. Ibid.

The ſame day, about 4 in the afternoon, Meſſ. Ric and Tho. Woodward, Bankers, in Exchange-alley, ſtopp'd payment: their credit was exceeding great, and the confuſion occaſioned hereby is inexpreſſible; but, 'tis believed, that on the delivery of the laſt Flota's treaſure they'll be enabled to make good all their engagements, they having lent great ſums of money to perſons intereſted in the aforeſaid treaſure. D J. Their misfortune affected even the publick ſecurities, which thereupon fell one half per cent. C. —— A Commiſſion of Bankrupt is taken out againſt them. D P. Mar. 26.

The ſame day ſeveral rogues, vagabonds, &c. apprehended late on tueſday night, were examined before Sir John Gonſon, &c. when 5 of the moſt notorious were committed to Tothill-fields Bridewell, to beat hemp; amongſt which was one Baker, a notorious midnight of the hundreds of Drury. C. Midnight Bully. P.

All his Majeſty's Royal Yatches are ordered into the docks at Deptford, to be cleaned with the utmoſt expedition. E P. We hear the ratifications of the new convention will be exchanged in 2 months by the contracting Powers. L E.

The experiment intended to be made on the ear of Cha. Ray, and deferred on account of his ſickneſs, is now laid aſide and [he] is to have a free pardon. It is to be feared, that ſince there has been ſo great a clamour againſt this experiment, that neither this nor any other uſeful experiment will be ever tried in this way. S J.

FRIDAY, March 26.

Yeſterday morning there was a great levee at the R. Hon. Sir Rob. Walpole's, at which were preſent ſeveral Perſons of diſtinction, to compliment him on the new convention of Peace. C.

Laſt night the Hon. Coote Moleſworth, M. D. and John Amman, M. D. were admitted Fellows of the Royal Society; and the Hon. Leonard Benedict Calvert, Eſq, Governor of Maryland, and Brother to the L. Baltimore, was propoſed, and immediately elected. D P.

We hear, that a Dramatic Performance, after the manner of the Beggars Opera, called Calliſta, having been offered to ſome of the Theatres, the Managers did not think fit to accept it, having been, as they ſaid, forbid by authority. D J. —— The characters repreſent the modern intrigues of ſome certain Perſons &c. P. 27. The Author has made preſents of ſeveral Copies in MS to Perſons of the firſt rank, and received very conſiderable preſents for them. D J. 30.

SATURDAY, March 27.

We hear that there has been lately printed, by the Poſt Maſter-General's order, a ſupplement to the method recommended in the year 1724, for the indorſement of Bank notes ſent by the poſt, which will make it impracticable for highwaymen to make any manner of profit by robbing the mails and that the ſame is to be ſent to every Poſt-town in England, and will be given at the General Poſt-Office to ſuch Gentlemen, Merchants, and Traders, as deſire the ſame. C. D P. D J. —— We hear from Paris, that Mr. Knight, late Caſhier of the South-Sea company, was lately married to Miſs Robinſon, Siſter to Sir Tho. Robinſon, Bar. a Lady of great accompliſhments. D P. D J. —— It is more fortunate to be concerned in South-Sea Stock, than in Bank notes.

We are credibly informed, that a plan has been laid before his Majeſty for a large and ſpeedy reduction of the army. D P. —— Saturday laſt the R. H. the E. of Loudoun kiſs'd his Majeſty's hand, on his being appointed his Majeſty's High Commiſſioner to the enſuing General Aſſembly of the Church of Scotland; and his Lordſhip will ſet out next week for Edinburgh. P.

We hear the Scheme of the enſuing Lottery is ſettled as follows, viz.

The Blanks and Benefits are to bear an Intereſt of 3 per Cent. per Annum, payable at the Bank, free of all Charges whatſoever. C.

—— Eyre, Eſq; ſon of the L. C. Juſt. Eyre, Philazer of London and Middleſex, has appointed Mr. Barns to be Deputy-Philazer, in the room of his father, deceaſed, a place worth between 2 and 300 l. per ann. P. D J.

Letters from Cheſter ſay, that Arth. Newcomb, Eſq; Seal-keeper of that City, going from the Aſſembly on monday laſt, fell down a pair of ſtairs, pitched upon his head, and died in a few minutes: the place is reckon'd worth about 200 l. per ann. D P.

Extract of a letter in the P. I enquired into the cauſe of their (the Woodwards) failure. I was anſwered our enemies and rivals in trade the Jews, were the ſole cauſe of this fatal diſaſter, by borrowing conſiderable ſums of them which belonged to Engliſh merchants, and with which they have traded, and gained largely by, but taken no care to reimburſe according to their engagement. —— What unheard of impudence is this, to borrow money of Engliſh Bankers, to accumulate immenſe riches at the expence and ruin of the Engliſh ſubjects by foreſtalling and glutting our markets abroad, as well as ruining our clothiers and bay men at home, and therefore the whole tribe of country manufacturers? All this they do by over-trading themſelves, whereby they are neceſſitated to draw upon their correſpondents they conſign their goods to, who are obliged to ſell them at a conſiderable loſing price, to comply with their bills; by which likewiſe thoſe that trade within the compaſs of their capitals, muſt become equal ſufferers. The declenſion of the markets abroad neceſſarily occaſions the declenſion of thoſe at home. —— They knowing how matters ſtood betwixt them and the Woodwards, adviſed their own gang to draw out in time, and ſo left the Engliſh in the lurch to be ſufferers alone.

To be lett by the general Veſtry of S. Giles's Cripplegate, on tueſday April 13, at 3 in the afternoon, 5 houſes over againſt Flying-horſe [Pegaſus] Court, in Grub ſtreet, in the occupation of Mr. Hyat, and others, upon building or repairing leaſes to the beſt bidder. Further particulars may be had of Mr. James Crabtree, general veſtry Clerk of the ſaid pariſh, at his houſe in Golden-lane. P. —— I hope our good Friends Mr. D—v—s and Mr. E l n are now ſuch with one another, after their late bloody conflict, (in which tables, chairs, and ſtools, like Swiſs, fought on both ſides, tho' not for pay;) and will agree to take this opportunity of removing to Grub-ſtreet, where we hear they will have for neighbours Mr. C—h, Mr. W k—r, and Mr. W n r. This, I don't doubt, will make our Street as famous for Bookſellers, as it has been many years for Authors.

I William Sherlock, from Dublin in the kingdom of Ireland, Son to the famous Mr. James Sherlock, Head Maſter in that kingdom, having on wedneſday laſt fought the renowned Champion, Mr. Edw. MONDAY, March 29.

Yeſterday the R. Rev. Dr. Harris, L. B. of Landaff, preached before their Majeſties, his Royal Highneſs the Prince, &c. and the Rev. Dr. Micklethwait, before his Royal Highneſs the Duke, &c. C. —— His Majeſty has been pleaſed to conſtitute and appoint the Hon. Major James Cholmondeley to be Lieut. Governor of Cheſter. C. &c.

We hear that Bulkley Mackworth, Eſq; died lately at his ſeat at Bunringſdale in the County of Salop; and that his eſtate of 2000 l. per ann. falls to his nephew, Herbert Mackworth, Eſq D P. —— Yeſterday died Dr. Mountford, one of the Cenſors of the College of Phyſicians. D J.

The workmen have now begun to lay the ſtones at S. Bartholomew's Hoſpital, which make a very beautiful appearance. P. —— Her Grace the Dutcheſs of Ormond is gone from Chelſea to Bath. D P.

Saturday laſt, at Mercers-hall was held a grand lodge of the ancient and honourable Society of free and accepted Maſons, when the R. Hon. Tho. L. Lovell was choſen Grand-Maſter, who was pleaſed to appoint Tho. Batſon, Eſq; to be his Deputy Grand Maſter, Geo. Douglaſs, M. D. and James Chambers, Eſq to be his Grand-Wardens for the year enſuing. There were preſent, the D. of Montagu, D. of Richmond, E. of Inchiquin, L. Colerane, Dr. Deſaguliers, and Geo. Payne, Eſq; (formerly Grand-Maſter) the L. Brudenell, Sir Cecil Wray, Bar. Sir James Thornhill, &c. above 400 Brethren being preſent. D P.

Friday night, about 11, Mr. Gregory, a Carpenter without Cripplegate, was attack'd in Wood-ſtreet by 3 Street-robbers, who beat him, and took 12 s. from him, and the chain of his watch, the ſwivel of which broke he had ſeveral guineas in his pocket, which they did not take, being interrupted by people coming towards them. They had each a piſtol in one hand, and a drawn ſword in the other. —— 2 Gentlemen were robbed the ſame night in the ſaid ſtreet, by 3 ſtreet-robbers, ſuppoſed the ſame. D J. C.

TUESDAY, Mar. 30.

Friday night, about a quarter paſt 9, Mr. Rob. Gibbs a Cole merchant at Dowgate was attacked by 3 rogues near S. Michaels in Wood-ſtreet, whom he reſiſted 'till 2 or 3 more came behind him and ſtunn'd him with blows, &c. pull'd down his breeches. and made him deliver them his watch. He received a deſperate cut about 2 inches long in his head. D J. C. —— Thurſday night Capt. Poulter, Brewer on Saffron-hill, coming home from Holbourn, was robb'd by 3 foot pads of 15 pounds, and very much bruiſed. D P.

Norwich, March 27. Mary Taylor on thurſday laſt was burnt to aſhes at Lynn, for being concerned in the murder of her miſtreſs; and at the ſame time one Smith, who murdered her, was hanged. She denied to the laſt her being any way guilty, ſeemed very penitent, and declared ſhe died in charity. Smith was very drunk, behaved like a mad man; and when the cart was drawing away, called out to have it ſtop, and then pull'd off his ſhoes, ſaying, my mother always told me I ſhould die in my ſhoes, but I will make her a Lyar. —— Briſtol, March 27. Monday laſt about 7 in the evening Will. Crowne was executed at Glouceſter, for robbing Mr. Bailey on the highway of 1 s. 6 d. He perſiſted in his innocency, and ſolemnly proteſted, he neither committed that or any other robbery. P.

We hear that the Oratory ſubject for to morrow evening will be on Wiſeacre's Holiday, or the firſt of April, for the benefit of Mr. Gulliver, alias Silly Cur; with a burleſque on his Advertiſements againſt the Copies of Mr. J—s and other Bookſellers; and that every wedneſday will be a proper anſwer, at the end of the Oration, to ſuch Inſects, nor in regard to them, but to the diverſion of the Town. D J. —— I am glad to find by this oratorical advertiſement, that every wedneſday [the day itſelf it ſeems] will be a proper anſwer to ſuch Inſects as Mr. I----s and other Bookſellers: whom in regard to the diverſion of the Town, the Orator will expoſe, tho' none of them (for a very good reaſon) ever dared to pirate any of his works. It is highly commendable in him, not only to pray for the dead on ſundays, but alſo by a new kind of charity, to prate for their benefit on wedneſdays: for this Mr. Silly Cur was ſlain near Richmond laſt tueſday, according to the advertiſement of a Quack Doctor, a near Relation of the Orator's, printed in the D J. of yeſterday. ----- But ſome, who out of envy detract from his great abilities, ſay, that the true, original Silly Cur is ſtill alive, tho' he has been in a declining condition for ſome time; and grew much worſe upon his being anabaptized with that name laſt thurſday, by one Gilliver, who thought himſelf lawfully called and ſent to perform that office: That all the Orations are really for the ſole benefit of the ſaid original Silly Cur, whatever pretences he now and then makes to the contrary: And that tho' he denies the miſſion of Gilliver, and endeavours in articles of news and advertiſements, to invalidate his authority, to depreciate his order and by way of jingle to retort the name upon him, yet the frequent ſolecijms in thoſe plainly ſhew, that this, by way of eminence, properly belongs to a celebrated Grammarian.

This day is publiſhed the Hyp Doctor, Number 16. by Sir Iſaac Ratcliffe of Elbow-lane, &c. N. B. The firſt 15 Numbers of theſe papers will not be ſold ſhortly under a double price. D J. —— This Curlean Advertiſement is very likely to be true, ſince it will probably be very long before they will be ſold at any price at all. ——

Sunday arrived an express from Seville, dated the 12th past, O. S. advising, that his Catholick Majesty had given orders for delivering the Flota's treasure to the Proprietors, in such proportion, as that in case of deficiency, (which it seems was expected) all might fare alike. The Indulto was fixed at 5 per Cent. and what money should be short deliver'd was to be paid out of the next treasure the King receives, 'till when the Proprietors have an interest thereon of 6 per Cent. allowed them. D J.

Thursday last came on the election of a Member of Parl. for Bossiney in Cornwall, in the room of Rob. Corker, Esq deceased, and the Hon. Jam. Cholmondeley, Esq; was elected: For Mr. Cholmondley 19. Mr. Roberts 5. L E.

The Waterman*'s Reply to the* Doctor's Answer, printed in the Craftman of Saturday last.

The Waterman thus to the Doctor reply'd,
By our Neighbourhood, Sir, we have long been ally'd,
And we too, like You, love to go with the Tide.
In another point likewise this truth you'll discover,
That we safely may venture to call you our Brother:
For whilst you look'd one way, you row'd quite another.

The Letter of advice from R. P— YNE to CALEB D'ANVERS, Esq; in the C. of Mar. 30. having been read, the Society much applauded the two following jokes: Tho' every Treaty is for peace, yet all Treaties are not of a piece: When any one boasts of the goodness of our Allies, you need only be smart, and say, that such things are All lyes. Mr. CONUNDRUM laugh'd very heartily, and said, These were as smart as that of ULRICK D'YPRES upon the Lord B— in the C. of Mar. 23. He kept company with Wits, tho' 'tis plain he had not always his Wits about him. —— Mr. ORTHODOXO then stood up very gravely, and said, He did not pretend to understand joaking, but he thought that Mr. D'YPRES wit exceeded his judgment, tho' perhaps not his malice against his sacred order; an instance of which he designed to have given at the last meeting, out of this very Paper, but was prevented; and therefore would take the freedom to mention it now. Mr. D'YPRES there says, That walking in the Gallery at Bedlam, he met a Clergyman, who, having run mad thro' pride and litigiousness, fancied himself to be Melchisedeck King of Salem, and to have a right to the tythes of all the spoils taken by the Duke of Marlborough. This story, he supposed, was told as a good argument in favour of the Bill to prevent Suits for Tythes, &c. then depending in the House of Commons. He owned it was merry enough; but it was spoiled by two or three inconsistent circumstances. The time when this happened, it seems was when the Duke of Marlborough's glory was in its meridian lustre, which was about 1709: yet he makes this Clergyman appeal to Gibsons Codex, not published 'till 1713; and to suppose, that Mr. D'YPRES had then read Bohun on Tythes, which was not printed 'till 1730.

The Advertisement from the Oratory, published in the D J. of this morning, turned into English, and tagged with rhime, by JACOB JINGLE, Esq;

Edinburgh, Mar. 22. Sunday last the corps of one Mrs. Robertson, Relict of a Minister of the episcopal persuasion, was interred in the Gray Fryers Church-yard. We are informed she died in the 109th year of her age. C. P. Mar 30.

Dublin, Mar. 20. They write from Wexford, that on the 15th a fire broke out at Ennisscorthy in that County, between 11 and 12 at night, which consumed 42 dwelling houses, &c. C. P. Mar. 30. —— Sunday last about 18 men, supposed to be designed for foreign service, were taken from on board a vessel off the coast of Bray, and brought up to this City; but being examined, were set at liberty, it appearing they were labouring men, bound to Wales, in order to strip bark. C. 19 or upwards. P. —— We hear his Reverence the Provost of our College, fearing further mischief from the students keeping arms by them, went with the Dean to all their rooms, ordering them to be sent away, &c. C.

FOREIGN NEWS.

THURSDAY, March 25.

Yesterday arrived the Mail due from France.

Paris, March 31. N. S. The Dauphin was weaned on Good Friday last. C. P.

Lisbon, Feb. 22. They write from Abrantes, that in the streets of Oporto the snow was above 4 foot deep. From Algarve, that on the 7th, 8th and 9th the sea swell'd a vast deal higher than at the highest tides; and that the rivers overflow'd their banks, and fill'd the neighbouring plains, to the depth of 6 or 7 foot; that the houses of several villages were borne down by the torrent; that there is not one stone left upon another in that of Alvor that part of the wall of S. Laurence's tower was wash'd away by the waves of the sea, and that they overflow'd the walls of the fortress of S. Julian. C.

Amsterdam, Mar. 30. 'Tis advised from Parma, that the second Dutchess Dowager has received a letter from the Q. of Spain, pressing her to take the regency into her own hands, in the name of Don Carlos, signifying withall, that the K. her husband has sent orders to the Marq. de Monteleon, to attend her person in order to assist with his council. D P.

FRIDAY, March 26.

There is now in the press at Constantinople a book entitled Orihan Name, or A view of the world. It is historical and geographical, and treats of all the kingdoms of Asia, from the Arabic and Persian historians and geographers, and also from the Latin Geographers. To this will be annexed the systems of Ptolemy, Copernicus, and Tycho Brahe. —— There are in this printing-house 6 presses; 4 for books, and 2 for copper plates, C.

Lisbon, Feb. 22. N. S. The Portugueze having marched some miles up in the isle of Lareca in the Persian gulf, not far from Ormus) found in the middle of a spacious plain, a great building of black and white stone, almost covered with sand. The architecture appeared to be the same with the ruins of the ancient Persepolis. They went through a long passage into a large hall, where they found 2 chests or cabinets of very hard black wood. They took much pains to open them, and found in them about 1000 volumes of books, in a sort of binding like large quarto; the sheets very thick, and made as supposed of cotton wool, or the barks of trees, rubbed over with blue varnish, mixed in some places with black. The characters are white, well made, not joined together, but each separate. The lines are horizontal, exactly straight and even: so that it cannot be discovered, whether they are written from the left hand to the right, as the Europeans and Indians write, or from the right to the left, like the Hebrews and Arabians. —— The superstitious Heathens opposed with a great deal of warmth, the carrying away of any of the books: however the Portugueze found means to slip 6 under their cloaths and to bring them to Goa. No man can yet be found who can read them. —— 'Tis thought the characters bear some resemblance to those of the Moguls and Kalmucks, who inhabit westward of China: which seems to be the better grounded, because the country of the Kalmucks, in the 13, 14, and 15 centuries, was the center of two great Empires, under the Monarchs successors of Ginghiskan and Tamerlane, at which time there were many learned men among those people whose writings in astronomy and geography are not altogether unknown in Europe. —— In another island, not far from Lareca, they likewise found some antiquities; among the rest, an equestrian statue of a Roman General, having a crown of laurel upon his head, and 2 other figures of men on horseback, with bucklers, &c. Ibid.

Paris, Mar. 27. Several complaints have been sent to court from the sea-coasts, concerning the behaviour of several English custom-house boats, called here Guard des cotes [gardes des côtes] one of which chaced an English trader into Antibes, and after she was ashore carried off her brandy. —— A few days ago, another belonging to Rye haled a vessel in Boulogne road, demanding whether they had any contraband goods on board. They were told, No: upon which they prepared to board her, and the vessel lay to to receive them: but whilst they were putting out tenders, one of the Custom-house sloop shot a Frenchman, without any provocation, as they say. The fellow who committed this fact, was lately a smuggler himself, and has but one eye The deceased was an able sailor, by whose labour a helpless mother and 4 or 5 small children were maintained. — Some days ago another English ship, commanded by one Jenkins, was seen to cast out stones at the mouth of the harbour of Dunkirk; upon which the Commandant ordered out some armed boats, and brought her in, and Jenkins and the crew were clapp'd prisoners in the castle. We hear orders are sent down to make several batteries in different places, with instructions how to act in these cases. P.

SATURDAY, March 27.

This afternoon arrived a Mail from Holland.

Vienna, Mar. 21. We are assured, that by the Treaty concluded on the 16th between his Imperial Majesty and the K. of G. Britain the article touching the introduction of Don Carlos into Italy is settled, as well as the guaranty of the Pragmatic Sanction, or succession of the states of the Emperor, the affair of the Ostend Company, and that of the subsidies due to his Imperial Majesty, from the Court of Spain, &c. W E. L E. —— Letters from Cadiz say, that the stormy weather having washed away divers shoals, discovered the foundation of an antient temple, in which was found a statue of copper, and several medals of the same metal, supposed to have belonged to the old Carthaginians S J.

MONDAY, March 29.

Brussels, Ap. 2. N. S. The Ostend Company's Stock is risen 50 per cent. above par, upon what ground we cannot imagine. P. 60 per cent. C. 31.

TUESDAY, Mar. 30.

Yesterday arrived the Mail due from Holland.

Hague, Ap. 6. N. S. If we are rightly informed, this State has already acceded pro interim to the Treaty lately concluded at Vienna. They talk of changing the garrisons without loss of time; it being apprehended, that a certain Potentate may make some attempt by way of resentment, which would not be agreeable. Our letters from Saxony mention the sudden and unexpected fall of their Prime Minister, the Count de Hoym, who had not been State-Architect long enough to understand his business. P.

Ferrara, Mar. 20. They write from Rome, that Card. Coscia has been sentenced to pay 120,000 crowns into the Apostolical chamber, and 80,000 crowns into the Treasury. C P.

Vienna, Mar. 24. The Levies are not yet suspended: on the contrary, 'tis said, that in the last council of war it was resolved to send fresh orders to the General Officers, not to stir from their posts without special leave from the Emperor or Prince Eugene. D P.

WEDNESDAY, March 31.

Amsterdam, Ap. 6. Letters from Cadiz say, that the ruins lately discovered were thought to be those of the temple of Hercules, so famous in antiquity; and that 3 statues were found therein, one of which is gilt with gold, the second is of massy silver, and the third of brass unknown: all 3 exceedingly beautiful. *C. WHEREAS the Publick has, of late, been much imposed on by false and spurious Waters, instead of the true Bristol Hotwell Water, yet pretended to be the same; and in order to prevent, in some measure, the like Abuse for the future, we JOHN BATTERSBEE and WILLIAM BISHOP, Masters of the Bristol Hot-well, do hereby give Notice, that all Bottles of Water sealed otherwise than according to the Impression here affixed, were never filled at our Spring; and any Person, ordering Waters from us, may, if desired, have a Certificate of its Genuineness sent with it sign'd by our own Hands, and 'tis desired that such Persons as give Orders to their Friends or Correspondents here to procure the said Water for them, would order such a Certificate therewith.

The best Water in the World,

So called by Those who have experienced it to be so, for the ITCH, or any ITCHING Humours.

IT hath been taken inwardly for the King's-Evil. It is good to cure sore Eyes, or any other Sores, Ulcers, or Fistula's; it has preserved several from having their Limbs cut off, when all other means have failed.

The Price of the Bottle, One Shilling and Six Pence.

PROPOSALS.

For Printing by Subscription,

THE Negotiations and Embassies of Sir THOMAS ROE, Knt. Privy-Councellor to King Charles I. and Chancellor of the most Noble Order of the Garter. From the Year 1620, to the Year 1644. In which Time he was Embassador Extraordinary from King James I. and King Charles I. to the Grand Signor, the Emperor, the Kings of Poland, Sweden, and Denmark, and to the Principal Electors of the Empire; as also to the Dyet of Ratisbonne. The greatest Part designed by himself to be made publick. To which will be added, many others which he intended not to publish, as being of too private a Nature to be made publick in Times of Jealousy and Distraction. Interspersed with a large Account of the Embassies of Sir Robert Anstruther, Sir Isaac Wake, Sir William Boswell, Sir Dudley Carleton, the Lord Scudamore, the Earl of Leicester, the Most-learned and Ever-memorable Earl of Arundel, and other Principal Ministers of that Time. To which are added, Authentick Advices, Original Powers and Instructions, Treaties of Peace and of Commerce, and many Rare and Valuable Pieces, of great Use to clear up the History of that Important Period. All from their Original Letters and Papers of State.

LETTERS, says my Lord Bacon, written from wise Men, are of all the Words of Man, in my Judgment, the best; for they are more natural than Orations and publick Speeches, and are more advised than Conferences or present Speeches. So again, Letters of Affairs from such as manage them, or are privy to them, are, of all others, the best Instructions for History, and to a diligent Reader the best Histories in themselves.

Baconi Opera, Vol. II. p. 463.
Sub titulo De Aug. Scientiar.

N.B. This Work, 'tis computed, will make five Volumes in Folio; and no more than 500 will be printed, at 18 s. only each Volume; and if upwards of 400 be subscribed for, the Work shall be render'd still cheaper to the Publick, and allowed for in the second Payment.

Proposals are deliver'd gratis, together with some Account of the Work, and a Specimen of a few of the Letters, by S. Richardson in Salisbury Court, Fleet Street, and S. Palmer and J. Huggonson in Bartholomew Close; and by the following Booksellers; viz.

Mess. Knaplock, Innys, and Rivington, in St. Paul's Church-yard; Mess. Bettesworth, and Hitch, in Pater-Noster Row; Mess. Fayram, Strahan, Brotherton, Hinchcliffe, and Walton, in Cornhill; Mess. Pemberton, Gosling, Woodward, Wotton, Clay, Brown, Gilliver, and Cogan, near Temple Bar; Mess. King and Stagg, in Westminster Hall; Mr. Clements, at Oxford; Mr. Crownfield, at Cambridge; Mr. Leake, at Bath; and Mr. Mc Euen, at Edinburgh.

A Certain Cure for the Scurvey, and all Scorbutick Humours, is recommended the Tincture Magnum, Anti-Scorbuticum: Or, The Grand Anti-Scorbutick Purging-Tincture of Scurvy-Grass; prepared after a new compendious Method, whereby it is made much more beneficial in purging the Blood of all salt, brinish, and watry Humours, than any Preparation heretofore prepared of that Sovereign Herb; to be taken any time of the Year, but more especially Spring and Fall.

This Preparation is found to be the best Medicine yet known for rooting out the most cruel Diseases that Mankind is subject to, by causing a true Circulation of the Blood and Juices, opening all Obstructions of the Stomach, Liver, Spleen, Reins, Womb, and other Vessels, attracting to it all Malignity, and leaving no Impurity behind. It works powerfully both by Wind and Water. It cures all those Diseases that are caused by the stagnation of the Blood, as the Scurvy, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Jaundice, old Surfeits, all sorts of Fevers, and many other Diseases too tedious to be enumerated here.

It cures the inveterate Pains of the Head and Stomach, Palpitation of the Heart, cleanses the Womb of all Infirmities, and by that means cures Fits of the Mother, and many other grievous Diseases afflicting those Parts, as Barrenness and Miscarriage: It sweetens the whole Mass of Blood, and gives it a due Circulation. It is one of the greatest Cordials in the World, fortifies the Stomach, takes away Loathing and Vomiting, creates a good Appetite, and is very excellent for those that are Vapourish, and strengthens the retentive Faculty, and is one of the noblest Bitters in the World. Kills Worms in both old and young. It gives about four Stools in 24 Hours. Its chief Efficacy is in purging the Blood, which it doth to Admiration. It is a very Balsom of Life, and vital Powers; exalts Nature to her highest Degree of Purity, by quickening the internal Heat

Prepared and sold by the Author, a Chymist, at his House, the second Door on the Right Hand in Bride-lane, near Fleet-street; where any Shop-keepers may be furnished therewith, with Allowance to sell again. 'Tis also sold at Robotham's Toyshop without Whitechappel-bars; at Mr. Neal's Toyshop opposite the White Hart Inn in the Borough of Southwark; at the Mitre in Jewin street; at Mrs. Arthor's, at the Highlander in Cross-street, near King-street Chappel, Golden-square, and at Mr. Greg's, Bookseller, next Northumberland-house, Charing-cross.

One Shilling a Bottle.
